Sunday, May 2

Morning

9am–Noon: Introduction to Nonviolent Direct Action

We strongly encourage attendance at this training. If you are new to demonstrations or need a refresher, please plan on coming whether you are considering a legal action or risking arrest.

The training will be an introduction to nonviolent direct action and an opportunity to meet others participating in the Monday, May 3rd action at Grand Central Station. We see it as "Part One" and the evening "final planning and scenario review" as "Part Two."

Location: Refectory, Union Theological Seminary, enter on Broadway at 121st Street, Manhattan.

RSVP to frida.berrigan@gmail.com

Afternoon

2pm: Rally and March Assembly

March with the War Resisters League. We are gathering at the southwest corner of 40th and Seventh Ave. Look for our tall Bread and Puppet Banners (ten foot high black wood cuts on white fabric).

3:30pm: March across 42nd Street to the United Nations

4–6pm: International Peace and Music Festival in Dag Hammarskjöld Plaza (47th St. between First and Second Aves). Stop by the War Resisters League table.

Evening

5–7:30pm: Scenario Review and Final Planning Meeting for "Nuclear Weapons Free Zone" Action at Grand Central Station. Please plan on attending the session if you are participating in the action.

7:30–9pm: "Nonviolence, Resistance and Nuclear Weapons"
WRL Peace Award Goes to Kathy Kelly and Voices for Creative Nonviolence

Please join us in honoring committed peace activist and war resister Kathy Kelly (you need not attend the meeting to come to the party).

Location: The Gallery Room, Holmes Community House, Community Church of New York, 28 East 35th Street (between Park and Madison).

RSVP to frida.berrigan@gmail.com

Monday, May 3

8–10am: War Resisters League Declares Grand Central Station a "Nuclear Weapons Free Zone."

Please plan on attending nonviolence training Sunday morning and/or final review Sunday evening if you are participating. For more information, see www.warresisters.org/May3action

Need A Place To Stay?

WRL has floor sleeping space for about twenty people in Manhattan and limited bed space in the homes and apartments of WRL friends. Please be in touch with frida.berrigan@gmail.com for more information.
